NONDUMISO NKOSI

FULL STACK DEVELOPER

BIOGRAPHY

I am a firm believer that every problem has an inherent solution. No matter the scale, if one is willing to give it their all then surely they will win.
I am keenly observant and perpetually curious. I work best in environments that continually challenge me to learn something new. I also subscribe to the belief that different, fresh and new directions constantly open the door to stretching yourself both professionally and personally. I do my best to stay on top and make sure that I gain skills that allow me to find ways to be more productive. With technology I always see diverse possibilities- possibilities that are always willing to break boundaries.
